

DO

- Send the highest resolution files you have.
- For best results, use a photo that is taken at a closer distance to the subject.

DON'T

- Often images taken from a distance will need to be cropped, and although an optical zoom can take high resolution images with good sharpness and detail, it is often difficult to see more subtle issues such as unwanted shadows, unwanted color shifts, and unwanted facial expressions.

